From the founders

We created SPAC because we saw widespread political apathy on Lehigh University's campus. We were determined to create an organization to change that.

The Student Political Action Coalition is a non-partisan group dedicated to making lasting change on issues that are important to college students.

Currently, SPAC is limited to Lehigh University, but we hope to expand to other colleges and universities across the country to inspire the new wave of college student political activism. The future is in the hands of the youth of the world; SPAC is helping us not let go.

Path to Change

SPAC has a three-pronged path to change: Empowerment, Dialogue, Action. We will empower student leaders to spark civic participation on college campuses. We will open and sustain dialogues among students and with those in power on issues important to America’s youth. We will take action that results in policy and systemic change.

Previous Initiatives

As its inaugural initiative, the Lehigh University SPAC organized a 150+ student trip to the March for Our Lives in Washington D.C. SPAC gained overwhelming institutional support for the march, raising over $10,000 from Lehigh University offices, private donations, and students contributions.

As part of this event, SPAC hosted a Sign Making Party where students were given the opportunity to interact with local representatives and University leaders.

What is Next?

As part of the first step in our Path to Change, SPAC is currently looking for student leaders on college campuses to partner with. Students’ voices can not be heard if we do not come together to tell those in power that young people matter. As an organization that is student run and student focused, SPAC can empower young people in a unique way. If you are a student or educator interested in a partnership with SPAC, please contact us for more information.
